Federal Resume and Application Tips

This listing is updated weekly and we recommend reviewing USAjobs.gov often for employment opportunities.

ACS compiles the weekly job listing for the USAG Bavaria Community. For specific position questions and inquiries please contact the hiring organization or their HR Office. ***

Claiming Preference?

There are several methods available to claim preference in federal hiring. Military Spouse Preference is one most often used here in USAG Bavaria!

To claim military spouse Preference, a military spouse must include the following documents with their completed application and resume when applying:

- 1. PCS Orders with name listed to new duty station*
- 2. Marriage Certificate or License – must be married to Active Duty member PRIOR to PCS Military spouses have 2 years from the time of PCS to utilize preference option.*

Military Spouses can only use this preference to be selected as a candidate once per duty station.

Should you use the USAJOBS Resume Builder or the Upload function?

YES! It is recommended that you use the resume builder on the site when applying for federal positions.

It does give you the option to upload your own civilian resume but if the resume you upload does not include all of the information required on the federal resume, you may not be considered for the position.

When utilizing the resume builder, it is in your best interest to review the job posting and ensure that your resume reflects EXACTLY what they are looking for. This pertains to previous work and education experience, as well as required skills necessary for that job. The Upload function in USAJOBS is nice and easy.

Follow this link for a step by step guide on how to use the resume builder:
